DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

1. Claim 1 is objected to because of the following informalities: The words "this feeding unit (30)" in line 6 should be --this control unit (30)--. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1, 6 and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Yatsuyanagi et al (JP 08-025117).

The claimed structure reads exactly on the reference's structure when members (5), (1), (20,25), (3), (7) and (10) of Yatsuyanagi et al are respectively considered as "core drill", "stand", "feeding housing", "electric drilling motor" and "control unit" as recited. It is noted that the control knob or/and switch on operational box 10 is considered as the "first control" for manual influence of the feeding motor's feeding force as recited.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 2-5, 7 and 9-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Yatsuyanagi et al '117.

Yatsuyanagi et al disclose a core drilling device substantially as claimed. It is not clear whether Yatsuyanagi et al includes a torque regulator, speed regulator, torque limiting device, water controlling means, rotational speed indicator and automatic stopping means called for in the claims. However, the examiner would like to take an Official notice that the use of a torque or speed regulator or limiting device is well known in the well drilling art to optimize the drilling operation. It is conventional to use water as a drilling fluid (thereby water flow control valve) to cool the drill bit and to carry cuttings. It is also common to provide an operator with rotational speed indicator so he/she can effectively control the drilling operation. Also, it has been held that broadly providing a mechanical or automatic means to replace manual activity which has accomplished the same result involves only routine skill in the art.

Drawings

6. Figure 1 should be designated by a legend such as --Prior Art-- because only that which is old is illustrated. See MPEP § 608.02(g). Corrected drawings in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

7. The drawings are further objected to as failing to comply with 37 CFR 1.84(p)(5) because they do not include the following reference sign(s) mentioned in the description: handle 16 recited in page 3, lines 2 and 8. Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Conclusion
